Version 4.2 Update You'll notice (hopefully) that the software is now flagged as version 4.2, and an update is included this time (or for those who receive results via email, it's on www.pbmsports.com via the Developments link).

The changes are all fairly minor - it's basically three things:-

1. The extra Pinch Hitting positions previously detailed:- MIF, CIF and COF.
2. The first round playoff series are now played over a 2-2-1 format, not the old 2-3 format.
3. The wild card team is now always seeded 4, and cannot play a divisional rival in the first round.

The latter two are fairly cosmetic, but mirror real-life. In both cases they won't apply to seasons already running, so when you move to a new season you'll see the software flag your game as "2005 rules". The 2-2-1 format has one real impact, and one "perceived impact". The perceived impact is that the higher seed now starts the series at home, but this really is only psychological (and isn't built into Gameplan Baseball) but it does now have an extra travel day factored in, so teams get a day's rest after game 4, and it does give you even more scope for playing with a "short rotation" (hence I think it's unfair to introduce it midseason). This argument also applies to the seeding thing, which is utterly sensible. A wild card team shouldn't be seeded above a divisional winner, and now as in real-life, two divisional rivals cannot meet in the first round.

Version 4.2 Rules There are now two formats to the Version 4.2 rulebook. One is the Version 3.1 printed rulebook (I still have a stack of these, so I'll keep using them until they've all done) combined with the version 4.2 update, but I've also (with thanks to Paul Maguire) got a PDF format of the two combined (ie the extra paragraphs are incorporated into the full rulebook) which you can download from www.pbmsports.com - if you don't have access to the internet don't worry, you aren't missing anything - it's all combined in the 3.1 rulebook and update. The online version is simply for convenience for those who do have access. If you really want a copy printed off and posted to you let me know, but there'll be a 0.5 credit charge to cover the costs.

HowBaseballWorks.com You should find a new website at www.howbaseballworks.com - it's intended to provide a guide to MLB, both for the inexperienced viewer, but also for the more experienced people (like you lot). It isn't just there to be interesting and informative, as sadly they don't pay the bills, so the hope is that traffic through it will produce Gameplan Baseball players!

If you're on a chat forum (not one full of people already converted) then please give it a plug - remember that we offer a couple of free credits for anyone new you introduce to our games (which is for genuinely new punters, not people switching leagues) and it's in your interests to get new players (ie new competition as well). So if you know some baseball fans, give it a plug.

Websites The website for submitting orders is at www.softsim.co.uk. www.pbmsports.com is our main "static" information website, as well as news of what's going on here. For news of what is happening with Pete in Yeovil see www.sidetracks.co.uk. For information on baseball and how it works, see www.howbaseballworks.com - a site also designed for recruiting new punters!

Internet Orders Should be submitted online by 9am. The confirmation that they've been received by us is the page that comes up in response to you pushing the button. When you see that page, your orders are in. The version that's emailed to you is just for information - we email it to save you having to copy and paste or save it as a screenshot. If the email copy of your orders doesn't appear don't worry - emails get delayed or go missing quite often (far more than some people think). The more people who submit orders via the internet the better - if you want more information, just ask. You can also pay for credits online.

Email Results Emailed results are normally sent out between 3pm and 6pm. If there's a delay in processing, it'll say so on www.pbmsports.com - please check there first. If you haven't received emailed results 24 hours after they're due, then email me and ask for them to be resent. Don't ask me before the 24 hours are due, but don't wait much longer either.
